Full-stack Web Developer

About   −

Hi, my name is Stephen and I'm currently studying full-stack web development. In mid 2021, I started to learn programming from the generous online coder community. I quickly fell in love with writing code and, in early 2022, decided to sign up to Coder Academy's Web Dev Bootcamp. I've been a performing and recording musician for most of my life and have worked in many industries from hospitality, to e-commerce and even construction.
